

EDUCATION PROSPECTUS

Irish Institute of Pensions Management
& Griffith College

Taking pensions education to a new level

GRIFFITH COLLEGE

President's Welcome

On behalf of the Irish Institute of Pensions management (IIPM), I am delighted to present you with details of our education courses which are delivered in partnership with Griffith College. We are immensely proud of remaining at the forefront of providing the highest possible educational standards and promoting professionalism for those involved in the pensions industry in Ireland. The evolving regulatory landscape in both Ireland and the European Union, coupled with a changing workplace environment, ensures that technical pensions expertise has become more relevant and required than ever before.

All courses outlined in this prospectus continue to enjoy accreditation from Quality and Qualifications Ireland and are on the National Framework of Qualifications. Our full Diploma in Pensions Management and Policy consists of eight modules in total with students who complete the first five modules receiving the exit award of Certificate in Pensions Investment and Insurance and are accredited a Member of the IIPM and may use the designation MIIPM.

Running over two college semesters from September to May, this Certificate award will also satisfy the Minimum Competency Regulations of the Central Bank of Ireland in 3 key areas – Pensions, Life Assurance, and Savings and Investments. Upon successful completion of all eight modules graduates will have attained Level 8 on the National Framework of Qualifications, become an Associate of the IIPM and entitled to use the highly desired AIIPM designation.

The IIPM also offer a Law and Governance Programme for Trustees which continues to receive acclaim in the industry. Touching on the many aspects of DB and DC pension schemes, the programme will focus on the building blocks for implementing robust scheme governance and risk management. Increasingly, employers are recognising educational achievement as a key requirement for their staff to progress along a career path and the Central Bank is also keen to ensure that the highest competency standards are continuously being maintained and enhanced in the pension and financial services industry.

The IIPM are confident that our courses outlined in this prospectus will advance your educational and professional achievements in Irish pensions and we wish all our students success in their endeavours.

Davin Spollen, President
Irish Institute of Pensions Management.

Overall, they will gain the ability to reflect on their own practices using concepts, knowledge and experience gained over the course of the programme building on their own prior experiential learning.

Testimonials

At Aon, we place huge emphasis on professional standards and strongly encourage our Consulting and Administration staff to partake in educational courses so as to achieve Associate status with the Irish Institute of Pensions Management.”

Rachael Ingle, CEO Aon Ireland and Head of Nordics & Ireland subregion

I highly recommend the IIPM Diploma Course. As a recent AIIPM graduate this course has enabled me to bring a far greater level of nuance and valuable information into my discussions with clients and to my approach overall. For anyone who is career focused and looking to be more than just competent in this field then this course is a must do! “

Vincent Boyle, Chief Executive of Allied Pension Trustees

Student Profile

The pensions course allowed me to specialise in my chosen career. Along with industry backing it provided an excellent boost to my career. Having completed the course myself anyone thinking of returning to college on a part-time basis, whilst it does require hard work and commitment, you will see the benefits in your career...”

Austin Foley, Willis Towers Watson

We found the Certificate in Pensions Administration an excellent first level platform as it covers all aspects of pensions legislation in Ireland. We were happy to sponsor our staff to complete the Certificate. Our staff also found it a very worthwhile qualification to hold.”

Mary P Burke, FIIPM, CIF Pension Administration Services Ltd (Administrators to the Construction Workers Pension Scheme)

I would like to congratulate the IIPM on achieving the standard needed for accreditation under the National Framework of Qualifications for their pension programmes. The work achieved by the IIPM to increase the quality and standard of education in the pensions industry is a positive move that will benefit all concerned. These programmes give those working in the important area of pensions administration, the opportunity to achieve professional recognition and I would encourage all members of the industry to pursue formal qualifications.”

Brendan Kennedy, Chief Executive, The Pensions Authority

“In my experience working on behalf of pension scheme and with co-trustees and employers we have had very professional and positive experience when working with IIPM Qualified members. They bring a level of knowledge and understanding of the issues that schemes face that enhances the service and solutions they provide and very importantly how these explained to stakeholders. These capabilities are of increasing importance as trustee boards and employers deal with higher governance and compliance standards and an increasingly complex pensions landscape.

Elma Fox, Professional Trustee, LawDeb
